When working towards your goals it can be an invaluable tool to keep track of how you are progressing on a weekly basis. Adding details to describe how you feel, in addition to rating your progress on a scale of one to ten can be beneficial in observing positive changes taking place. The higher the number the closer you are to your goal.

Date	Notes on how you feel and any improvements you are experiencing		on a scale of 1-10